

Mamorov Alexander Vasilievich.

Mamorov Alexander Vasilievich was born in the Vologda region. When the war began in 1941, Alexander was 13 - 14 years old. In 1943 he voluntarily went to war, adding 2 years to his age, so that he was 18 years old. Alexander Vasilievich served in the tank troops. He burned in the tank, but survived and reached Berlin. After the war, a splinter was removed from his hand after an explosion in a tank. He was awarded various medals.

After the war he served in the city of Königsberg, now this city is called Kaliningrad. My family and I are very proud of Alexander Vasilievich, because he was brave and courageous. He was not afraid of difficulties, and as a child he went to the front to defend his country.
